We heartily welcome you to our Genetic Vault Sale! Wow, what a year! It's almost impossible to know where to begin. Drought, bushfires and now COVID-19, have brought a new meaning to family, friends and appreciating the simple things like fresh air, farming, and open spaces.

Sometimes it is hard to judge your own cattle without being biased. But when you look at your cattle and you keep saying to yourself "we shouldn't be selling that animal, we should be keeping it," and you have a catalogue full of animals like this, you know you have been doing something right. With this in mind and with the last 13 years of hard work behind us, we are extremely pleased, proud and excited to present our most compelling line up of animals in our 2020 Genetic Vault Sale. We are offering to you some of the Speckle Park's finest gems.

When we say 'open the vault,' this is literally what we mean! It's no marketing gimmick, it's the REAL DEAL. We are selling animals you would never dream of selling. But as part of our succession plan here at Waratah, all of our great Waratah Donor Dams and founding Matriarchs of the Waratah Speckle Park Stud are being offered to you along with Waratah's newest female pearls. These new little pearls can be found in the Q heifers as part of the 12 new cow families being introduced to Speckle Park stud breeders in Australia. A number of these cow families we have been trying to secure since our very first trip to Canada! These incredible cow families include Almost A Ranch Mercedes 53N, Petemar TeQuilla 1N, Petemar Jessica 2N, Petemar Lorretta 5X, Petemar White Rayne 7C, Cold Creek Unity 23U, Cold Creek Zama 26Z, DLR Odelle 15W, Moovin Zpotz Yellow Rose 7Y, CN Zpotz Zerbert 5Z, Remin's 2X and Codiak Lucky Lady 22S. We encourage you to take your time perusing the pages of this catalogue as there are a large number of first-class animals on offer.

There is an undeniable ability for Speckle Park cattle to perform under all conditions from feedlot to crop and in drought. They have just proved themselves again here at Waratah living through the worst drought in history on the NSW Tablelands and second major drought in the 13 years we have been breeding them. For the second time, we have noticed how well they performed in these trying times compared to other cattle in the area facing the same conditions.

In 2008 when we embarked on our Speckle Park breeding program, we were excited about the opportunity to be involved in Speckle Park cattle. In 2020, we are equally as excited and privileged to be able to pay it forward to Speckle Park breeders to secure world class Speckle Park genetics right here at Waratah.

We look forward to seeing you either in person or online on sale day.

Warm Regards,
The Turnham Family

The Waratah Way

The purchase of a Waratah bull is a long-term investment, so they should be treated with care and in a gentle manner. Always handle them quietly and at a walking pace. By doing so, you will earn their respect and maintain their good temperament. Our bulls are vaccinated and drenched prior to sale and can serve approximately forty cows as two year olds and slightly more as older bulls. They are handled with dogs and contained using electric fencing, so they will treat both with respect. A Waratah Bull provides excellent opportunities in genetics and can improve the value of your herd into the future.

Transportation & Handling

At the fall of the hammer at auction you take possession of your purchase, so from that moment, it is important to treat your new investment with care. You might like to consider insurance for transportation back to your property and for the first few months of ownership.

A bull leaving Waratah should be unloaded at your yards, with house cows, steers or herd cows as companions. Always separate bulls from different origins into different yards. Remember your bull is leaving the security of a mob and will arrive in unfamiliar territory at your property.

Vaccinations/Treatment

Always consult with your veterinarian and establish a health treatment plan to be given on arrival at your property. It is important to vaccinate against vibriosis, as it is a common cause of infertility and is transmitted by infected bulls. Fortunately, this disease is easily prevented by vaccination prior to joining each year. A drench is important when he is finished serving the cows. You may also treat bulls yearly with other injections that are appropriate for your local area/state.

Behaviour & Temperament

The temperament of any bull is best demonstrated by their behaviour in the yard before auctioning begins. During and after action and/or on arrival at your property their behaviour may change due to changes in environment and increased stress. Bulls may display a change in temperament, becoming excited and/or agitated. A number of stimuli may cause this change including unusual and loud noises, new people, crowds, a new environment, new feed, loss of mates, a new herd and different handling methods. This can be very upsetting to animals. It is best to allow bulls time to adjust to their new environment. You can assist this by providing adequate feed, water, low noise levels and a mate i.e. house cow. Once settled into a new environment their temperament will return to normal.

Young Bulls (12-18 months)

It is possible for a young bull to settle in with older bulls, however the paddock needs to be large enough for the young one to keep away from the others and to find adequate feed. As the new bull, he will get the last of the feed available because of the pecking order. Young bulls are still growing and need enough feed to maintain their growth pattern, which may require supplement feed in the first breeding season. Having enough paddock area also helps them to be able to settle the cows quickly and efficiently.

We recommend mating loads of only 25-30 females. Never overwork young bulls. As they are not fully developed, they will be leaner and carry less body fat reserves. If their condition score declines to below 3, sperm production may be compromised. Their condition is essential for good fertility.

It is also important to note that the joining season may need restricting to 6-8 weeks if conditions are extensive and where good quality feed is unavailable.

Mating

Cows should be seen cycling in groups with male calves hanging around before mating. If using several young bulls, they should be run together for a few weeks prior to joining. This should reduce problems later on as they will have already established a hierarchy. Also, young bulls that have been recently purchased should not be joined together with older bulls.

Always observe your bull when he is working as accidents can happen. Bulls can scratch their penis on dry manure on the cows backside which can lead to infection with large sores forming. If treated quickly this can be remedied. If a bull is not serving, he needs to be replaced, but remember, if the cow has been served before the observer has arrived, the bull may not repeat the performance. Remember any day he is not working can cost you money.

Nutrition

When your new bull arrives at your property, provide adequate hay and water and leave him alone until the next day so he has a chance to settle. Before you join your bull with a herd, the cows should be on a rising plane of nutrition to ensure they have the greatest possible chance of cycling. When the season is finished, the bull should be put away with quality, adequate feed, as this will help prevent fighting.

Please remember: Always respect your bull and he will respect you.

What is Breedplan/EBVs?

An animal's breeding value can be defined as its genetic merit for each trait. While it is not possible to determine an animal's true breeding value, it is possible to estimate it. These estimates of an animal's true breeding value are called EBVs.

Gestation Length (days)

Gestation Length EBVs provide an estimate of genetic differences between animals in gestation length. Lower or more negative Gestation Length EBVs are considered to be more favourable as a bull with a Gestation Length EBV of -2 days would be expected to produce calves that are born earlier, and more easily, than a bull with a Gestation Length EBV of +2 days.

Birth Weight (kg)

Small, or moderate, Birth Weight EBVs are more favourable as a bull with a BW of +2 kg would be expected to produce lighter calves at birth than a bull with a BW of +6 kg, with a lower risk of a difficult birth. However, whilst low BW EBVs are favoured for calving ease they are also generally associated with lower overall growth potential. Therefore, birth weight and growth EBVs need to be carefully balanced. Animals can have both moderate birth weight EBVs and above average EBVs for later growth.

Growth EBV's (kg)

Three growth EBVs are currently calculated by Breedplan; 200 Day Growth, 400 Day Weight & 600 Day weight. These EBVs are the best prediction of the animal's ability to grow to weaning (200 day), yearling (400 day) and later ages (600 day). 200 Day Growth EBVs are important to vealer breeders, 400 Day Weight EBVs for yearling breeders and 600 Day Weight EBVs for breeders of heavy steers.

Mature Cow Weight (kg)

Mature Cow Weight EBVs are estimates of the genetic difference between cows in live weight at 5 years of age. Animals with a higher, more positive Mature Cow Weight EBVs would be expected to produce progeny with a higher mature weight than animals with lower Mature Cow Weight EBVs. What level of Mature Cow Weight EBV is optimal will depend on the individual herd and its breeding objective. Breeders looking to decrease the mature weight of their cows may look for lower Mature Cow Weight EBVs whereas breeders looking to increase their returns from the sale of cull cows may look for higher Mature Cow Weight EBVs.

Milk (kg)

Milk EBVs provide an estimate of the maternal contribution of a dam to the 200 day weight of her calf. In the case of sires, this estimates the maternal contribution that his daughters will make to the 200 day weight of their progeny. Larger, more positive, 200 Day Milk EBVs are generally more favourable, depending on the environment. For example, a bull with a 200 Day Milk EBV of +15 kg would be expected to sire daughters with higher milk production than a bull with 200 Day Milk EBV of +5 kg. This higher milk production potential should be reflected through higher weaning weights among the daughter's calves.

Scrotal Size (cm)

Scrotal Size EBVs provide an estimate of the genetic difference between animals in scrotal circumference at 400 days of age. Larger, more positive, Scrotal Size EBVs are generally more favourable. For example, a bull with a Scrotal Size EBV of +4 cm would be expected to produce sons with larger testicles at yearling age and daughters that reach puberty earlier than the progeny of a bull with a Scrotal Size EBV of -4 cm. Scrotal Size is the most important EBV to look at when determining the fertility of individual animals.

Carcase Weight (kg)

Larger, more positive, Carcase Weight EBVs are generally more favourable. For example an animal with a Carcase Weight EBV of +40kg would be expected to produce progeny with heavier slaughtered carcasses at 650 days of age than an animal with a Carcase Weight EBV of +30 kg.

Eye Muscle Area (sq cm)

Larger, more positive, EMA EBVs are generally more favourable as a bull with an EMA EBV of +4 cm<sup>2</sup> would be expected to produce steer progeny with a greater degree of muscle expression than a bull with an EMA EBV of +1 cm<sup>2</sup>, relative to carcase weight.

Rib Fat / Rump P8 Fat (mm)

More positive or more negative Rib/P8 Fat EBVs may be more favourable, depending on your breeding goals relating to the finishing ability of your animals. A bull with a Rib/P8 Fat EBV of -0.4 mm would be expected to produce leaner calves than a bull with a Rib/P8 Fat EBV of +0.4mm, relative to carcase weight.

Retail Beef Yield (RBY)

Larger, more positive, RBY EBVs are generally more favourable. Animals with a higher EBVs are expected to produce progeny that yield higher percentages than animals with lower EBVs.

Intramuscular Fat (%)

Larger, more positive IMF EBVs are generally more favourable. An IMF of +0.8% would be expected to produce progeny that would express more marbling than an animal with an IMF of +0.1%.

It is important to understand how Speckle Park colour patterns work in order to achieve your breeding goals. While some breeders are mostly interested in producing speckled cattle others want to inject Speckle Parks' notorious hybrid vigour while retaining predominantly black herds. For example, when a solid black Speckle Park bull is joined with 100% purebred Angus cows the resulting calves will be predominately solid black. Another example is when Angus cows are joined to a white Speckle Park bull the resulting calves will be predominately speckled.

Speckle Park cattle have four distinct colour patterns; speckled, leopard, white pointed and solid black. The speckle and leopard colour pattern are genetically the same except for varying degrees of spotting. Some Speckle Park cattle can produce red colour patterns if both parents carry the recessive red gene.

Please remember when dealing with nature individual results will vary. This is to be used as a guide only.

LAKEVIEW PENELOPE 5P (Leopard)

Notes: Minnamurra Lancelot L14 was chosen as a back-up bull to our AI breeding program as his pedigree was an outcross to the majority of our cow herd. He also stood out for his early maturity and length of body. Semen has been sold in Australia and New Zealand. He is a maternal brother to the $30 000 Minnamurra Marlin M4 who sold to JAD Speckle Park in the 2018 Minnamurra sale.

Waratah Peyton P169, JSF Continental proved a good fit for the large, extremely fertile Waratah Amy E27 family. He is a carrier of the Myostatin gene and when mated to non-carriers he will inject more weight and muscle into his calves. These carrier bulls are great to pair with either dairy cows or other beef breeds! Plenty of touchdowns in this fella!! Retail Beef Yield top 15%.

The first of the Petemar Ride Lilac 9C calves to sell by Petemar Special Edition, who is the brother to our Petemar Special Silas bull. He is an outcross all round. Good scrotal size for a young bull and the rest of the package stacking up nicely. Great feet, lovely balanced structure, and great muscling. His brother Petemar Special Edition was impressive, with a show winning record, but Silas was a little longer in the body, and an inch higher in height, with awesome structure. A very quiet white bull will colour mark his offspring.
